

The Owingsville Outlook.

VOL. XX.

OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1899.

NO. 25

Notice.

Having sold a half-interest in my business, and desiring to close up my individual affairs as speedily as possible, I earnestly request all those indebted to me to settle without delay.

S. P. ARTHURSON.

The time is at hand now to prophesy that the fruit is killed.

Jacob Warner, of near town, sold a small crop of his tobacco at 54c.

All persons indebted to me are earnestly requested to call and settle, as I need the money.

MRS. D. S. ESTILL.

Born, Jan. 9th, to James Jones and wife (nee Millie Roberts), a son.

See new ads. of Vic Bloomfield & Co. and Park & Barnes in this paper.

If you want Lime, Brick, Cement, Plasterer's Hair, Rails, Posts, Shingles, Boards, &c., you can get them at Brother & Goodpastor's.

John Gillon has resigned his position at T. S. Shout's. Ed Barnes has taken his place.

Elder B. F. Parker will preach at State Valley Church the 4th Sunday in this month.

Judge John A. Ramsey has had a $150 fire-proof safe put in the County Judge's office.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to us please call and settle their accounts at once.

Respt., S. SLESSER.

The Fiscal Court adjourned Wednesday of last week to meet again Wednesday of this week.

The tobacco that is being delivered is weighing out disappointing, if light to what the growers expected.

It is learned that Vic Bloomfield & Co. will remove their stock of goods here to some other place March 1st.

Zun Wells, of Roe's Run, bought the L. B. Williams farm near Forge Hill for $800, to take possession March 1st.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c. Feb 20

A heavy frost coated all outdoors last Friday morning and then a snow fell. It made the trees wonderfully pretty.

Col. C. F. Simonds, formerly proprietor of the Phoenix Hotel at Lexington, died from a fall off a porch at Norwich, Conn.

Mrs. Jas. F. Day, of Mt. Sterling, bought the White Oak toll-house near Wyoming for $250 and will move there March 1st.

Go to W. B. Power for the best Break Cart that is made. All carts guaranteed. Buggies and wagons repaired as cheap as anybody. If you don't believe it come and see. Horsehoes guaranteed to be first-class. Come, see and be convinced.

Young & Lane have re-rented of Miss Jennie Elliott for one year the store-house they occupy, with the privilege of three years.

The sleek caused the birds and wild animals to go hungry as long as it stayed on last week. And likely many a domestic animal suffered from the same cause.

James M. Hutton, of Cincinnati, and Miss Sarah P. Johnson, daughter of Col. Thomas Johnson, were married at Mt. Sterling Wednesday of last week.

F. P. Hendrix, of near Sherburne, has bought several crops of tobacco, and will have Fred Lynn, of Bethel, to prize it for him in T. H. Brown's barn, in this town.

Having sold our business we urgently request all who owe us to call and settle at once. This business must be wound up. Call at Postoffice for settlement. Thanking you for your patronage in the past, we are yours truly, Dawson & Bryan.

Patterson & McKinnon had the grates burned out of their boiler at their planing mill last week. Their boiler being too small to run their engine properly, they are going to buy a 25-horse power one.

At sunrise Saturday morning the sleet on the trees made them seem like they were gold-plated and strung with sparkling colored jewels. As the sun rose higher the color changed and all outdoors looked like it was silver-plated and polished.

Town Marshal A. N. Denton raided "Montana Jim's" house Saturday night and arrested about six of the colored population for shooting craps. Jim drew a gun on the Marshal, but was disarmed by him. The craps table will have to grind through the Police Court.

Saturday the trees were more splendid, flashing, blazing diamonds, rubies, sapphires, emeralds and other precious stones, bigger ones and more of them, than the authors of the Arabian Nights ever conceived or dreamed of. It was a sight of a lifetime, and a more gorgeous one than a fairy story would dare tell off. Ordinary jewelry will ever afterward seem cheap, artificial, commonplace and trivial.

I will, to close out, sell ladies' and children's underwear at cost, for cash. Come early to get bargains. Also all outing clothes, fancy woolen dress goods, left over from fall purchases, and many other things too numerous to name, will be sold at cost to make room for spring stock. These sales strictly cash.

Mrs. D. S. ESTILL.

MEETING.—Elder W. M. White commenced his two-weeks' meeting at the Christian Church here Monday night to a good sized congregation. This bids fair to be a very interesting meeting, and those that fail to hear Elder White will miss one of the events of the year. He will preach each afternoon and night.

COURT DAY.—Monday was not a very pleasant day for a street market, the cold mud being disagreeable. A fair-sized attendance of people was here, however. About 60 cattle were sold at as strong prices as the same class brought a month ago. Trade with merchants was fair, but collections not good.

TOBACCO SALES.—J. D. Kool's purchases: near Sharpshurg, one barn of Richard Donaldson's at 74c and one at 6c; Robert Clark's at 74c; Mrs. Lucy Faris' at 74c; Frank Johnson's at 74c; one barn of R. N. Radliff's at 7c and one at 74c. There were about 35,000 pounds of these crops. He also bought James Johnson's at 7c; C. S. Radliff's at 74c.

UNCONSCIOUSLY HUMOROUS.—Owingsville has some precocious kids. The medal-wearer among them is a lot of about six years. His exploits are numerous. One day recently he was at a blacksmith shop pounding away earnestly like he was producing something important. A minister passing by saw him and stopped to banter him. The minister demanded: "Why were you not at Sunday-school last Sunday?" The child never stopped nor looked up, but replied: "I've got no time to fool with your Sunday-schools!" The minister passed.

ENCLAVE PARTY.—The Enclave Club was royally entertained at the Owingsville House Tuesday evening by the young men. Those present were: Misses Lela McClintock, of Millersburg; Elizabeth McClintock, of Leavenworth; Lewis Peters, Emily Peters, Daisy Hazelrigg, Anna Peters, Edna Peters, Mary Burbridge, Kate Connor, Bettie Peters, Repta Ewing, Clara Bascom, Hattie Young, Nell Kimbrough, Annie Chesnut, Mrs. E. G. Galt, Messrs. F. M. Ewing, John Hughes, Eugene Brother, Emmett Fratman, Bob Galt, Turner Perry, Ewing Connor, Crit Young, Oscar Brother, Clark Bascom, Jr., Ed Byron, Connor Ewing, Wm. T. Smoot, Jas. T. Peters, Ray Patterson, A. J. Nesbitt, Glenn Perry.

MARRIAGE EMPLOYMENT.—William Jones, son of Tilton Jones, of west of town, and Miss Anna Conyers, youngest and last unmarried daughter of Isaac B. Conyers, of lower State Creek, closed to Ironton, Ohio, Sunday afternoon and were married. Clarence Power, of this town, accompanied them. Both are young, the bride being only about fifteen. If there were any parental objections they were perhaps due to the latter fact, for the groom is a worthy young man coming of a nice family and one noted for thrift and good citizenship. The bride is a pretty and charming young lady and has been highly popular in the social circles of the younger people since she entered society. That they may always be as happy as they are now and that they may be ever prosperous, are wished by THE OUTLOOK.

SALARY QUESTION.—Squire John A. Daugherty in the announcement of his candidacy struck a popular note in declaring for a reduction of the fixed salaries of the county officers. There is hardly a doubt that it chimes in with the desires of a substantial majority of the taxpayers. At present the salary of the County Judge is $1,000, besides the valuable perquisites. Judge Ewing, the wealthiest man in the county, and with multitudinous cares, served the people for $400 per year and thought it enough, yet to him personally the time and thought he devoted to the people's interests were worth several thousand to him. Judges Brother and Goodpastor, both men with large personal interests, were willing to accept but little more than Judge Ewing had received. During these administrations nearly all commodities were much higher than at present, so that their salaries were not worth near so much as the same sums now. When Judge Goodpastor retired from the office the salaries of about all the important county officers were largely increased. For what good reason? Have any of them averaged better services than those who received the smaller salaries? It will hardly be claimed that they have. Isn't it about time to give proper consideration to the rights of the taxpayers? The wealth of Bath county is produced mostly by the toil of the farming element. The hired labor of that industry is remunerated on a basis of about 50 cents per day. The profits of farming at the best are modest, year in and year out. It looks like it would be simple justice to the wealth-producing element of the people to make salaries of officers proportionately modest and give that much relief to the taxpayers.

THOMAS GORRELL'S DEATH.—Thomas Gorrell, a former citizen of Bath county, having resided for years between Wyoming and Sherburne, died suddenly in his yard on the Embury farm near Mt. Sterling last Thursday. He had finished stripping his tobacco, had it sold at 7c and had started to dinner when he dropped dead. He had of late years been residing on a farm in the vicinity of Springfield Church. Recently he rented his farm and moved to the Embury place. He made the race for Assessor in the Democratic party primary in this county in 1897. He was a first-class citizen and had many friends and relatives in this county. He was buried at Bethel Saturday.

show the white feather without further parley. If there is an object under the sun to keep a respectable distance from it is an irate woman. But if she is a man, and she'll meet us on the square we'll twist her into a fiery comet and hurl her against the stars. Whoever him, her, I, then, he, she or they are he wrote the purest thoughts and put them in the sweetest language we've read for many a day. Hurrah for Uraige!

Some wise man spoke the troubles of his mind thusly as follows: "A man's character is only half formed until after marriage." Now, fellow-citizens, let us look carefully at this statement of the wise man. Let us disrobe it and stare at it in all its nakedness. Let us study its outlines, its features and all its points of interest. What do we understand by a half-formed character? Is it a character in embryo? Does it mean that a man is only a half man when he is seen alone on life's highway looking for a better half to start him in business and keep up the lower end of his credit? Does it mean the tender youth who earns $3 a week and spends $5 on Sunday for a horse and buggy to drive out with a pocketful of candy and peanuts for the fell purpose of capturing some other fellow's intended half? Does it mean the man who has loved and lost, wandering aimlessly along the "vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities?" Does it mean the widower who blunders along the hallways of time "harking and calling to the unreplying vacancies of a vanished world," bewailing his grief and then marries the prettiest girl in all the country? Let us, fellow-citizens, look at the other side of this statement. Perhaps it means the man who got along freely in the world, who liked freedom, who liked to humor and please himself without the restraint of a woman and her wardrobe of apron strings. Yes, it must mean him. His character is only half-formed, so he reaches out for the other half to complete it. Love is sweet. Yes. The honeymoon is delightful. Yes. So are his wife's relations. Yes. After awhile the moon of honey ceases to light up love's splendid paraphernalia, its glitter is lost in the shadows of stubborn reality and he realizes that "marriage is a lottery" and he has married the wrong woman. Yes, it means him. O ye of little faith! Witness, "the wisest, brightest and meanest of mankind" who both have given hostages to fortune for they are impediments to good enterprise, either of virtue or of vice. Outside the best and of greatest merit for the purpose have proceeded from the unmarried or childless men, which both in affection and means have married and endowed the public."

The Venezuelan Herald announces that the natives of Guayana, on the frontier of Venezuela and Colombia, have discovered a cure for leprosy in an herb called tasajo, or fratillo. This dreadful disease has hitherto been regarded as incurable, and if there be any truth in the report, from Guayana, which is now being investigated, the information may prove of great value to the medical world.

A Mr. BUCKNER has obtained a patent for a bootblackening machine. The model shows a suitable frame of iron, with a foot, a reservoir to contain liquid blacking, brushes that automatically apply it to the boot and then give way to polishing brushes and go back to their place. The machine can be worked by electric power or by a spring and can be used with a nickel in the slot arrangement.

It has been reserved for enterprising boys of chess in Hungary to give the most novel form of the game. The game was played on a billiard table marked off into 64 squares. The game was played by four young men, two on each side, and whenever a piece was taken the mover had to empty the bottle of wine consumed. The game did not last very long. In fact, by the time the pieces were consumed, two of the four players were incapacitated.

The title of the "Tessie" story, so dear to the horse, ox, dog, has been found by a committee of the British Royal Society to affect other creatures as well. No remedy has been found. This little insect is playing a surprising part in the world's development, as, although man is strangely immune to the poison, large districts in Africa, notably the Limpopo and Zambezi valleys, must remain uninhabitable until the pest shall have been destroyed.

Extracts in France are not only taxed, but are obliged to carry a plate on their machines bearing their name and address. In order to prevent people avoiding payment of the tax, the government is about to introduce another plate, which cyclists will also have to carry on their machines. The plate, issued annually when the tax is paid, will constitute a receipt for the same. The cyclist has then to fix it to his machine, and will be free from molestation.

While Mrs. D. Y. Van Dyne, of St. Louis, was entertaining her fashionable friends at a well-dressed dinner, she appeared at the door, and without ceremony said she desired to use the parlor while Mrs. Van Dyne was out. The stranger in the parlor was a woman, who, when she was asked to leave, she was told that she was the victim of a practical joke. The stranger entered a side parlor, lay down on the floor and had her fit. When it was over she thanked his hostess and departed without giving his name.

The Canadian government is trying the experiment of using dogs to carry the mails in the Klondike. A cargo of these animals, bought at the average cost of $30 each, having been landed at Quebec from Greenland and Labrador, was immediately dispatched by the Canadian Pacific to the other side of the continent. The prospective mail carriers, 140 in number, were selected for their superior speed, training and weight. They will, of course, be harnessed to sledges. The Eskimo breed is best to manage, but the dog suffers sufficiently from hunger he is likely to make a meal of his master.

Excavations by the Surrey Archaeological society of Wareley Abbey, near Farnham, have disclosed the foundation of a church and the outline of the monk's dormitory, as well as the kitchen and disciplinary cells. In the cluster, opposite the chapter house door, the coffin was found of William Hamlet, a well-dressed man, and king's chamberlain, whose burial took place in 1191, as recorded in the annals of Wareley. Several others were also uncovered. These coffins were not of stone, as is usual in English abbeys, but of oak, and the wood was almost as sound as on the day it was laid in the earth.

It is estimated that there are 190,000,000 old style copper pennies somewhere. Nobody knows what has become of them, except that once in a while a specimen turns up. In the few years ago 4,500,000 bronze two-cent pieces were set afloat. Three million of them are still outstanding, but are never seen. A million of three-cent silver pieces were also set afloat. These are also nowhere to be seen. It is very likely that one comes across any of them. Of the 800,000 one-half cent pieces not one has been returned to the government for coinage or is held by the treasury.

The first attempt at scientific forecasting of the weather was the result of a storm which, during the Crimean war, November 24, almost destroyed the fleets of France and England. As the storm had raged several days earlier in France, the French minister of war, directed that investigations be made to see if the progress of the disturbances could have been foretold. It was then demonstrated that the storm was in reality one storm, and that its path could have been ascertained and the fleet forewarned in ample time to reach safety.

It is the general belief that Christ was born 1,807 years ago Christmas. Such, however, is not the fact. Our method of counting time was introduced (111) the year 525 A. D. The calculation was erroneous, and it was found ten centuries afterward to be deficient of the true period by over four years. But as the alteration of a system that had been adopted by nearly all Europe would have occasioned great confusion in civil affairs, the error was allowed to remain, and we continue to reckon from the era first established, which, however, lacks four years and six days of the real Christian epoch.

DEWEY'S WANTS.

He Makes a Request For More War Ships and Supplies.

With His Present Vessels, the Captured Spanish Shipments Those Under Way, Dewey Will Have the Largest Fleet in United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The navy department received a dispatch from Admiral Dewey making requisitions for ships and supplies, urgently needed on the Asiatic station. The admiral reiterated the request he has made several times in the last few weeks, that additional light draught cruisers should be sent to him, notwithstanding the fact that Secretary Long informed him Friday that the admiral was starting immediately by way of Cebu, and other vessels would follow when they could be spared. A reply was sent to the admiral Saturday that the department would consider the request, but that it would be necessary to wait until the end of the month, when the department would be able to make a decision. The admiral's requisitions are for two light cruisers, two torpedo boats, and a large number of supplies.

Secretary Long added a request to Admiral Dewey to designate specifically any other gunboats he desired, in order that the department might gratify him, if possible. The admiral's requisitions are for two light cruisers, two torpedo boats, and a large number of supplies.

Upon these issues I solicit your support. JOHN A. DAVENPORT.

THURSDAY, JAN. 12, 1906.

The United States forces are about to fight the Filipinos to a finish. That will lose the President a lot of popularity.

The boys of the Third Kentucky ought to be happy now. They are under positive orders to go to Cuba and will probably leave some time this week.

The Treaty of Peace between the United States and Spain was given out for publication last Friday morning. The substance had already been known.

U. S. SENATOR MARION BUTLER's proposition to pension dependent Confederate soldiers is being protested against by the Confederate Veterans' Associations.

THE STANDARD OIL CO.'s attorney flatly told the Ohio Supreme Court that the company would not produce in Court any books other than those they had already shown. It's up to the Court now.

COL. JOHN B. CARTERMAN gets part of his reward for duty well done with the 1st Kentucky in Porto Rico in a recommendation for a Brevet Brigadier General's ship, which will no doubt be confirmed.

GEN. MAXIMO GOMEZ, commander in chief of the Cuban insurgents, has issued a proclamation to the effect that he will not disband his army until the soldiers are paid off. Gomez is pretty near, if not wholly, right.

Mrs. MARY HOLLEY, of Paterson, New Jersey, cut off her tongue because she thought she talked too much. If she had it as bad as she thought she will soon be as loquacious as ever through the enforced cultivation of ventriloquism.

GEN. SNAPPER treated Gen. Garcia with scant consideration at Santiago and did leave him in Gen. Wood's hands. Shafter's policy in that respect and the Cubans his friends. Gen. Brooke seems to be repeating Shafter's blunder with Gomez. Due courtesy to the Cuban leaders would cost nothing and would save trouble.

EXPERIMENTAL RUNS were made last week on some of the railroads going west out of Chicago in order to establish a fast-mail schedule. The Burlington made 90 miles an hour on some spurts, and the Northwestern 130. They both averaged over 50 miles an hour long runs. All railroad records were broken. The average person would need some practice to breathe properly on such a run.

The leading Republicans of the State are concluding that their factional strife is hindering the hope of success in elections, and are casting about for some means by which all can be brought to bury the hatchet. Irreconcilable individualism is a Democratic characteristic. The Kentucky Republicans have indulged in internecine warfare on personal grounds alone.

GEN. BROOKE's order to send the customs receipts collected at Santiago to Havana nearly started an insurrection at Santiago. General Wood had been spending it freely to improve the city and give employment to the Cubans and all classes were pleased at the improvements made over the Spanish methods. Blundering like that on the part of U. S. officers will do much harm and retard the restoration of order and prosperity.

Gov. Packer didn't make any showing against Barrows for U. S. Senator from Michigan, but he had as much fun as he wanted by firing a 25,000 word message at the legislators. Packer would rather "ping" than be Senator, anyhow, for he has hopes that his "pinging" will make him President some day.

Thousands of thousands in this country claimed to have the grip last week. It is a question, though, whether the grip had them. When it does there is no room for doubt. Expressed in the terms of arithmetic, a cold is to the grip as an old-fashioned stomach-ache is to the Asiatic cholera.

ONE doesn't have to be an expansionist in order to see the necessity for the reorganization and increase of the regular army on the lines of the Hull bill. An army of fighting is small enough, and there ought never again to be experienced such a state of unpreparedness for the emergency of war as was gone through with in the war with Spain. It is the very best economy to be reasonably well prepared for war, to say nothing of the sense of national safety. Had the war been with a strong nation Uncle Sam would have had a woful experience, beyond doubt.

MATTHEW STANLEY QUAY received the Republican caucus nomination for re-election as U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania, but his vote was nineteen short of the number necessary to elect him on joint ballot. His opponents will fight desperately to prevent him from getting those nineteen votes, but it would be very risky to bet that he will not be re-elected. Quay is an expert of experts when it comes to political work, especially in his own behalf. The best that can be said for his political methods is that he is frankly unscrupulous and in that respect superior to the less able though equally corrupt and hypocritical opponents that would like to down him for their own ambition's sake.

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT GILBERT, of the Eighth district, morally deserves to forfeit his seat in Congress, and Davidson morally deserves to secure it. The Legislature without warrant of right, and it is believed, without warrant of law, took a county, that generally gives a large Republican majority, away from the Eighth district solely for the purpose of defeating any Republican Congressional nominee in that district. Contested elections generally have no merit, but in cases like this a partisan wrong, doing richly merits punishment. It may be that the law is such that the seat is denied to Davidson by the logic of the law, but Gilbert ought not to get it. Regular partisan legislation can not be provided against, and, besides, it is not an unmarked card that frequent and unlawful partisan legislation is an evil that wrongs all the people and needs stern rebuke every opportunity.

A REPORTER asked Grover Cleveland for his view on annexation and expansion, and he replied with this bit of telling sarcasm:—

"I do not care to repeat my views concerning the prevailing epidemic of imperialism and territorial expansion. Assuming, however, that my ideas on the subject are antiquated and unsuited to these progressive days, it is a matter of surprise to me that the refusal of certain natives of our new possessions to acquiesce in the benevolence of subjecting them to our control and management should in the least disturb our expansionists. This phase of the situation ought not to have been anticipated nor the incidents naturally resulting out of it overlooked. The misguided inhabitants of our annexed territory who prefer something different from the plan for their control and which we propose or who oppose our designs in their behalf should be slaughtered. The killing of natives has been an act of expansion since expansion began, and our imperialistic enthusiasm should not be checked by the prospect of the necessity of destroying a few thousands or a few hundred thousand Filipinos. This should only be regarded as one stage in a transcendently great movement, a mere incident in its progress. Of course some unprepared souls should be killed before we had the opportunity of christianizing them, but surely those of our elegments who have been so much to encourage expansion could manage that diffently."

I heartily concur with the corps. from South Side and from Craig on drunkenness or the whisky traffic. Every young man and some of the old men of this neighborhood, in the communication of last week took a day and be governed by it, and at the end of the year if he is not a better man morally, socially and financially I will admit I do not know anything. Try it while to see how it works, you to whom it applies. And as to Congress, who wishes the men to vote for prohibition, it is to the good women of the land we are looking to help to banish this curse, and that is one of the many reasons I am for women's suffrage. Sometimes a few words in the right place bear more weight than a hundred in the wrong place. In this case time alone will reveal the kind. The words referred to were addressed to a candidate in our county who was asking the suffrage of the people for an important office. My reply was that taxes and salaries had been on the increase; that labor and the production of labor had been on the decrease; therefore, I wished to know his feelings in the matter. I notice in the latest issue of THE OUTLOOK where one candidate has come to the front advocating a decrease in salaries. So far so good. Now, there comes another thing of vital importance to the overburdened taxpayer and voter: How sorry those reform candidates are for the law prohibit the raising or lowering of the salaries of the present administration. But there is no law to prohibit a man from agreeing to take a fixed salary of $5,000, inflicting painful bruises about the head and face. When the accident occurred he was standing on the main line while the local freight was switching on a side track and the through freight struck him before he knew it was approaching. Though badly bruised up he will recover.
